What a shame the government has spent so much time and money to go after a company that has an operating system that just "can't be beat". If there is a better option from any other company, let "them" come up with a marketing strategy and present it to the public just as Microsoft has done.

Bill Gates started this company with nothing - free enterprise at it's finest! Let all the other Bill Gates comes forward if they have something better to offer - until then, the government needs to get out of the business of running Microsoft's business and wasting taxpayers money.

I wonder how many of these people who are so against Microsoft have uninstalled the Windows system from their computer and installed another operating system - - -
